Job Description

Wayside House is a 28-bed facility for women ages 18 and older who suffer from alcohol and/or drug addiction. Our treatment program is based on the 12-step model, individualized for each woman for all levels of care.

We are currently seeking full-time and part-time overnight, overnight weekends and mid-shift Behavioral Health Technicians (Client Advocates) to work in our residential program. Our Behavioral Health Techs are primarily responsible for providing non-clinical supervision to women in substance abuse treatment, acting as a role model for positive behavior and communication. Essential duties include overseeing the whereabouts of clients, assisting the clients with mealtimes, providing transportation, assisting with daily activities, and documenting and communicating client-related matters promptly and accurately. Experience in residential setting is preferred.

Must have excellent references and must be willing to have a level II background check (including driving history), local background check and drug screening. Must have a clean, valid driver's license
